

The Claretian Echo

ST. CLARETS

The Echo: Hey now, hey now, don't dream it's over.

VOLUME 3: ISSUE 100

OCTOBER 22ND 2014

"What I have written, I have written." - Pontius Pilate.

Having a Hoot in Hayes

Dreamer: Theresa Lynott

Fans of the popular American diner Hooters were delighted to discover that a new establishment has just opened in Hayes.

Patrons at the bistro bar experienced all of the usual delights of Hooters, with busty, scantily dressed barmaids flirting outrageously with customers and treating them to eyefulls of flesh.

For some, the arrival of Hooters is a dream come true, with head waitress Theresa Lynott declaring to The Echo that: "Working in Hooters is all I've ever wanted to do since I was a little girl".

However, on the down side, restaurant manager Colm Lynott had to run the gauntlet of an angry mob of men and small-breasted women, who had gathered in the car park to protest at the selection criteria for jobs.

Speaking to The Echo, Colm, who recently underwent breast augmentation surgery in order to secure his position, declared that Hooters didn't discriminate and was an equal opportunities employer, stating: "We don't discriminate here. Anyone with a decent set of boobs can get a job at Hooters, and I'm proof of that."

Manager: Colm Lymott

Storm in a T-Cup

Loyal Claretian Teresa Kelly (right) turned heads last week when she unveiled her new fuller figure.

Husband John is said to be "ecstatic" with the new look, and there's the added bonus of a lucrative contract from underwear makers Playtex, for their new T-Cup range of lingerie – the bra to create a storm in.

And Finally from The Echo.....

Donaghy in The Red

In a desperate attempt to secure the senior team captaincy for 2015, veteran Claretian Paddy Donaghy (right) has decided to follow the lead of 2014 skipper Barry Lynch, by trying a bit of ginger in his locks.

The Tyrone man had assured the club's hierarchy that he won't let the captaincy go to his head!!!!

